The Manamater Store. A New Foulard Printing

TRY the textile printers the world over,—there's none to equal those of Alsace. The fame of the products of that district rises superior to even the teachings of history. Alsace is now German soil, but Alsace prints are still called French. A tinctly an advance over anything which has ever reached us from the mills of that district before. It is not a radical change from the French Foulards you have known for years. The colors, to an expert eye, are somewhat fresher and brighter, the detail of the elaborate patterns is something sharper; -that's about all.

We have a line of these pretty silks which is worth looking at, if you have time to do it justice. The variety is too big to talk about, because it's too big to fully investigate. You'll find it large enough,—that's all that's necessary for individual satisfaction.

A splendid collection as regards designs and shades, and very good silks indeed, for a very low price,-lower than this quality generally demands.

Eighty-five Cents a Yard.

Made-to-Order Shirt Waists

We have to-day prepared a special exhibit, showing something of the possibilities afforded by our made-to-measure Shirt This collection is like a garden of very Waist staff and equipment.

Satisfaction in this particular line of work depends on two things:-first, the power of giving the customer such range of choice in material as insures her finding what she wishes; second, Rich taffeta silks, in light and dark in having the detail and workmanship such as cannot be criticised. Both these features we present to you.

We have a collection of shirt waist stuffs,-fancy silks, percales, madrases, cheviots and such,-which we do not think admits of successful rivalry in either extent or choiceness of pattern. All are imported goods. The make-up is intrusted to the most expert cutter procurable, and the working-force is very far to waist; embroidered in silk forgetabove the merely good.

Lastly, the prices are fair. You'll call them low. Come in and see the showing of to-day.

Ripples From a Rising Flood The First of the Imported Wraps

THINK of every parallel you can, to illustrate the very beginning of a prodigious event, and then apply the best one to these first Paris and Berlin Capes and Jackets. It isn't a formal showing, as yet—that will come later. These are only the ones and twos and threes of a coming army. You may pick them singly now, as you might pick the first flowers of Spring, before the advancing season makes a burst of blossoms

You'll get no finer specimens than these, no matter how long you wait. There will be more, but none more beautiful.

In this lot are a number of very novel and wholly exclusive models in Golf Capes. They are made expressly for our chief from the rich plaids so suitable and necessary for mountain and seaside wear. The goods were found in Scotland, the capes made up in Paris; not too many of a kind, but something of a showing.

Banquet Lamps at Half Prices

THERE are 225 of the finest kind of Danquet Lamps made a fortunate pair in this country here this morning, which we can sell at half what you'd ordinarily have to pay for them. They all have clean hair, which we are making into deep the country have and nearly all have globes. Those without globes have ten-inch shades.

It's a handsome lot. No two are alike, and the 225 will not last more than through the day, because it's a picked lot, mattresses AT $10 EACH. Depend it, they'll go quickly at this price. lamp, and pay twice our price. At half price they'll be taken, whether there's really a need for them or not.

Prices run from 75c. to $30. Most of them are priced somewhere between $5 and $17,—formerly twice these figures. We've given them the main aisle this morning.

There's a pattern in good American pressed Glassware, which has been popular for a long time, and is still as popular as ever. We are going to close out that pattern and have marked the goods at Half Prices to do it. Why? Just because there are prices and less. Sixty-cent ones are some new matterns coming in and 25c 80c ones are a for dollar and a some prices are a for dollar and a some prices. some new patterns coming in, and there isn't room for all.
